NETWORKING

FORWARD- THINKING

- "My favorite part of the event was seeing how creativity applied to every aspect of the approach to lending changes the process from being a universal experience to a very personalized one. I believe this new thinking is long overdue. It demonstrates that creative thinking is a choice, as is stagnant thinking."
- "I left the conference with the feeling that there is a possibility that we can change the direction of the behemoth lending ship that is the industry norm."
- "I learned the importance of 'getting a stamp of approval from those in your neighborhood.'"
- "The overarching philosophy to think beyond existing boundaries, and seeing how that theme carried through each information session, was what was most enjoyable for me."
